

Faculty Group Urges Improving School Finance Legislative Agenda

News Bureau
Brigham Young University
American Association of University Professors, has urged placement of public school financing on the agenda of the forthcoming special session of the Utah Legislature.

Or, if that is not feasible, the professors in a formal resolution urged Governor George D. Clyde to include on the agenda a provision for the creation by the legislature of a citizens' commission to study the school situation.

ABOUT 50 OF THE 600 BYU faculty members hold membership in AAUP.

The public school teachers, represented by the Utah Education Association, have threatened to boycott the schools of Utah next autumn and not sign teaching contracts unless additional funds for education are forthcoming from the legislature. The UEA also has threatened teachers with disciplinary action if they sign and urged sanctions by other state teacher organizations against Utah boards of education.

GOVERNOR CLYDE has steadfastly refused to include school financing on the agenda of the special session because a school financing provision already has been enacted this year in the regular session.

In its resolution, the BYU Chapter of AAUP stated that the children of Utah would be the primary sufferers from a failure to resolve the impasse.

The professors suggested that the study commission should be composed of distinguished citizens appointed without regard to political or religious affiliation, and should be empowered to investigate all facets of public school education which affect its cost and quality.

"The commission should be instructed to proceed with reasonable dispatch and it should be empowered to submit definite recommendations, including a request to the Governor, to summon a special session of the legislature to consider school financing if, in the judgment of the commission, such a call is warranted," the resolution stated.

Grand Jury Gets Hoffa

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A federal grand jury in Nashville, Tenn., Thursday indicted teamsters union boss James R. Hoffa on five counts of conspiring and attempting to influence a jury in his recent trial there.

It was the sixth federal indictment against the fiery leader of the world's largest union in less than six years.

He was indicted on five counts of conspiring and attempting to influence the jury. If convicted, Hoffa could get five years in prison and/or $50,000 fine on each count.

Hoffa had been on trial here on charges of accepting illegal payments from a Michigan trucking firm. The court action ended in a mistrial last Dec. 25.

Others indicted were Ewing King, President of Teamsters Local 371, Nashville; Allen Dorfman, a Chicago insurance broker; Larry Campbell, business agent for Teamsters Local 299 in Detroit; Thomas Ewing Parks, Nashville; Campbell's uncle, Nicholas J. Tweed, Huntington, W. Va., president of the Continental Tobacco Co., and Lawrence Medina, a Nashville merchant.

The Justice Department said the indictments were based on extensive work by the Federal Bureau of Investigation which began its probe seven months ago. The first count named only Hoffa and charged that he conspired to influence the jury in his trial. The remaining four counts charged him and one or more of the others with attempting to influence specific jurors.

Tropical Formal 'Fiafia' Awaits Goers Tonight

Authentic Polynesian decorations, torch lights, orchids, contemporary foliage and warm tropical setting will be the scene of "FIA FIA" tonight at 9 p.m. in the East Provo State House.

For the ultra-formal dance, 1500 orchids have been flown in from the Hawaiian Islands to be used as part of the decorations. To add to the special atmosphere, members of the Polynesian clubs will sing and perform native dances.

A forty foot contemporary fountain in the middle of the dancing floor will provide a special tropical garden effect. This will give an authentic Polynesian atmosphere. Columns of one leaf and tropical foliage will descend from ceiling to floor.

Refreshments will be served outside, on the patio to give an effect of a romantic south sea feast.

Lighting will be torchlight to add to the soft setting. Refreshments will be food that Samoan natives themselves might eat: raw fruit and an exotic drink composed of native fruits.

Tickets may be bought at the door for $2.00 per couple. Dress is formal. Flowers are permitted. General chairman of the affair is Karen Knudsen. Working on decorations and intermission were Tony Taylor, Judy Pirmage, Dave Larsen, John Paxman, Carma Calderwood and Larry Nielsen.

Chairman of programs was Kathy Tueller. Working on refreshments were co-chairmen Kathy Clark and Janice Watter. Duties of publicity were shared by Dorothy Birdline and Dale Hilton. Paul Wickens and Paul Walter worked on special effects. Mavis Hickell headed ticket sales. Advisor from Central Dance Committee is Haws Marble.

Haws Marble and Dave Larsen begin the lengthy decorating for "Fiafia," studentbody spring formal tonight. In addition to tikis and other polynesian props, 1500 orchids have been flown in for decorations from Hawaii.

Senators Make Plans

McIntyre, from St. Louis, Mo., represents the sophomore class in next fall's Senate with Mayro Rasmussen, "Richett and Maricle Bent."

He has many plans for the year for the Senate. His main aim is in establishing a better relationship between the BYU students and the rest of studentbody. He feels that he may have talents that could be utilized in our government.

OULD like to see students have complaints actually to their senators about problems," said Mayro Rasmussen. He feels that a closer union between the students and the student government is needed, while in office.

Maybe is interested in government and has made political science her major. She urges all of those concerned with student government to attend the Senate meetings held every Monday evening at 7:00 p.m. in 206 JKB.

Mike Pritchett, of American Fork, pledges himself to represent the Sophomore class and to use the talents of the class in a better way.

Freshman Week to Wind Up With Niteside by Hugh Nibley

Hugh B. Nibley, professor of history and religion at BYU, will highlight the last day of Freshman Week at a nighttime Sunday at 9 p.m. in 184 Knight Bldg.

HE RECEIVED his Ph.D. in ancient history from the University of California and is the author of such books on the doctrine and background of "The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints" as "The World of the Jaredites," "The Myth Makers," and "Leit in the Desert" which has been translated into German, French, Danish and Norwegian for the members of the Church in those countries.

Although Dr. Nibley is best known as a scholar, his life during World War II was anything but quiet. Because of his proficiency in languages he worked with intelligence corps in the American, British and Canadian armies, parachuting behind the lines on D-Day, June 6, 1944 to work with the underground and lead anything but a scholarly existence.

THREE WAS, for example, the time when he was rambling through the desk of a German general when the general walked in. Dr. Nibley nonchalantly excused himself and walked out.

Dr. Nibley is scheduled to debate "The Nature of Man" with Dr. Stuart MacMurtin of the University of Utah Monday night.

HUGH NIBLEY

Boyack, Jones, Ward Tell Next Year's Plans

Dave Boyack, new Sophomore class president, pledged his faith in the Sophomore class by stating flatly that next year would see the best Sophomore class in the University's history.

BOYACK, who lives in Salt Lake City, recently returned from the New England States Mission. Since his return to college he has participated in several leadership conferences and the Fieldhouse Frolics. He is a member of the Young Republicans and was superintendent of the 20th Ward Y.M.C.A. in the past year.

In expressing his views for next year, Dave stated that he plans to give the class members the opportunity of developing their talents in as many fields as possible. New and different activities are slated for the future Sophomore class also. Through effective organization of leadership, Dave wants the students to feel that the class officers are not only leaders but also workers.

Dallas Jones finds himself in the position of having run for office, sweating through the primaries and finals, and then discovering that the election was illegal.

JONES, who is not vice president of next year's sophomore class, is a prelaw major with a double minor in economics and business management.

A native of Dillon, Mont., he recently returned from a Texas mission for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and is currently a Sunday School teacher in the BYU 32nd Ward.

For fun he listens to classical music, plays basketball and other kinds of sports, hunts, fishes, and waterskis.

HE AND president-elect Dave Boyack had planned next year's program. He would have been in charge of the cabinet, setting up preliminary committees and doing the first work on the program. Now he is going to "wait and see."

Long Beach, California, is the home of the Sophomore class secretary, Sue Ward.

SUE has received many awards in her college career, besides her recent election as secretary of the sophomore class. She was Freshman Girl of the Month, president of Teen Alexis, chairman of the decorations committee for Homecoming and held a position on the Freshman Council. Sue was honored recently by the Political Science department. This summer she will be a representative of BYU on the College Board.

Sue plans to instill in every sophomore the feelings of enthusiasm for the class. She wants to see more stress on class unity and activities and to give every one the opportunity to serve.

Grant Praises Frosh Efforts

To the members of the Freshman class:

On behalf of the Freshman class officers I would like to thank all those who have made this year a great one for the Freshman class. Wednesday night at the "Freshman on Review" talent show we were given an indication of some of the things that the class has done. Such events as class assemblies, our semi-formal dance, "Rapture in Erubescence," the class Firesides, class newspaper and other things have been made possible only because of the excellent support and participation of class members. Also our participation in the Winter Carnival, the Homecoming parade and the Mud Bowl were only carried out because of the participation of class members. Extra credit also belongs to the Freshman Council who have worked many long hours to make all events a success.

Karl G. Maeser Day, to be held tomorrow, is the climax to this year's events and with the Castells, the Titan II's and Lynn Bryson participating we know that you will enjoy this day. It will be something that will be remembered for a long time.

In conclusion, I would like to say "thanks to everyone for their support, it's been a great year."

omney Makes Visit to Egyptian Republic

Dr. Antone K. Romney, dean of the College of Education, has just returned from a month-long trip to the United Arab Republic.

He was one of a seven-man team of professionals selected by the American Association of Colleges of Teacher Education, to study the educational system of the U.A.R. The visit was made at the request of the United States Department and the U.A.R.

The primary objective of the visit was to become better acquainted with the culture and educational system of the U.A.R. and improve national relations in educational matters between the two countries. The ministries of higher education and the ministries of education in the U.A.R. provided the team with every opportunity to examine the educational institutions in the country, Dr. Romney.

Recently, a report is being prepared by the participants of the team which will cover educational objectives and sides of the U.A.R., primary education, preparatory education, secondary education and preparation of primary teachers.

The report will also cover the level of higher education which includes institutes, colleges, and universities. The director of the ministry of higher education among the other things, the study team had the opportunity to see and study the high dam at Aswan which is being constructed in the U.A.R. with the aid of the U.S.A. The dam will provide water and irrigation to increase cultural potentials of Egypt. It will be the largest earth filled dam to date and will furnish an abundance of power and water for the people of the Nile River valley.

Also studied by the team was the cotton industry in South Egypt, large cotton factories, agricultural schools and villages of the Nile River, the old temples of Luxor, and the ancient culture of Alexandria in the Mediterranean. These and other historical influences have a great deal to do with the development of the educational systems of the U.A.R., said Dr. Romney. There have been great changes in the U.A.R. since the revolution of 1952 when the modern state of Egypt came into being, said Romney. The revolution in educational government and social custom has continued since that day and is changing the face of this most ancient peoples.

GREAT PROGRESS has been made in the combined rural units which serve the people of the country. Hundreds of such units have been developing in regards to educational services, help services and social services.

There is considerable sacrifice being made as the government proceeds to socialize industry. But by in large there is sincere consideration on the part of education for all individuals. The picture is not gloomy nor is it overly optimistic, said Romney, but judged by the standards of American education, there is still much to be done in Egypt.

A better understanding of the U.A.R. will make it possible to unite together information of educational practices which will lead to world peace, said Romney.

Youth Make Worst Drivers Says Insurance Group Study

Young drivers in 1962 had the worst performance record of any age group, according to a report by The Travelers Insurance Companies.

THE REPORT, issued annually since 1931 except during the war years, is compiled by The Travelers from information provided by state motor vehicle departments.

A Travelers spokesman pointed out that drivers under 25 years of age comprise only about 15 percent of all licensed drivers in the United States. Yet, he said, these young people are involved in nearly 25 percent of all fatal accidents. In 1961 this age group participated in 27.3 percent of all highway deaths.

The Travelers report shows that young men and women in

Negroes Plan Protest for Six Months

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., (UPI) — This southern city center has been called the most segregated big city in America.

Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., the Negro integrationist, bestow of the title and the Atlanta minister and thousands of his followers are in the midst of a campaign to change it.

Negro leaders began planning their massive campaign to break the racial barriers here more than six months ago.

One of King's top lieutenants stretched out on his bed in a negro motel and related the history of the south's biggest push for equal rights in history.

The Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth, a 46-year-old Baptist minister, began almost single-handedly in the south's biggest push for equal rights in history. He has since been arrested 86 times by his own county, been beaten and threatened and has moved his family to Cincinnati.

"The downtown (white) merchants agreed to desegregate lunch counters and other facilities and upgrade the negro in his job last September," he said. "But they went back on their word."

Troubled, Shuttlesworth and other local negro leaders contacted King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference, of which Shuttlesworth's Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights is an affiliate.

Shuttlesworth said "we decided that since Birmingham was the nation's worst in race relations, we had to go all out... with the biggest campaign this nation had seen. There was no use in dealing with the city officials. We had to press the business leaders into action."

Twice the campaign was postponed.

The first was during a successful campaign to change from a three-man commission city government to a mayor-council form of government.

The second was a runoff election in which Commissioner Eugene (Bull) Connor, a strong racist, ran for mayor against more moderate Albert Boutwell.

The campaign started the following morning and swelled to the biggest movement in southern history. Almost immediately, the movement leaders ran into trouble. Many racial moderates among Whites who had been working to ease 100-year-old racial problems were dismayed. One said that King's demands for immediate concessions under pressure of threats almost undid all our work."

About the only areas of this city not strongly segregated are linked with transportation. Bus and airplane terminals were integrated by an Interstate Commerce Commission ruling.

Federal court suits that led to city repeal of an ordinance requiring Negroes to sit on the rear of city buses.

Other suits in Federal courts bogged down in legal maneuvers.

The city's municipally owned golf courses, community centers, swimming pools and parks were closed when officials were faced with a federal court integration ruling.

The parks remain closed and the judge has ruled if they are reopened, they must be available to all.

Libraries, department store lunch facilities, movies and other areas of life remain segregated, though since the campaign began, some White churches have accepted Negroes at worship services.

"The Negro in Birmingham was ready to burst over segregation," Shuttlesworth said. "All it took was sense to point the way for his energies."

The end results are yet to be seen.

Probation—Suspension Explained by Standards

The end of the semester means shifts in academic standing for most students — some up and some down.

Dr. Darrel Moses, head of academic standards, feels that many students do not fully understand the "deceptive simplicity" of BYU academic standards.

"THE ONLY requirement we make," he said, "is that a student maintain the grade-point minimum required of his class." This is 1.75 for freshmen and 2.0 for all others. However, the overall grade point average must be 2.0 by the semester before the student's graduating semester.

Another misconception most students have is the difference between warning, probation and suspension, he remarked.

Warning is for students in good standing whose last semester grades fell below their class minimum. However, their overall average was enough to keep them out of probation.

A STUDENT is placed on probation when his average falls below his class minimum.

He is suspended if three requirements are fulfilled. (1) He must already be on probation. (2) He must be 12 grade points below his class minimum. (Grade points are not grade point average.)

ages. The grade points needed can be found by multiplying freshman hours by 1.75, all other hours by 2.0. This will give the minimum grade points required to stay off probation.)

(3) He must have been below his class minimum last semester. In other words, a sophomore who is 24 points below his class standing and is on probation, from his freshman year cannot be suspended as long as he makes straight C grades.

A STUDENT on suspension has two regular ways to redeem himself. He can either take 10 semester hours of home study or correspondence courses from any accredited institution and get at least a C in each class; or he can take a full load of 15 hours from any college and earn an average grade-point of C.

This preparatory work cannot be done at BYU summer school, Dr. Moses reminded.

WHAT'S HAPPENED TO FALCON

EVERYTHING! AND YET...

Early this year we put a 164-hp V-8 in a new kind of Falcon called the Sprint, and entered the stiffest winter road test we could find... the 2,500-mile Monte Carlo Rallys. We didn't know what would happen... but happen it did.

First, no one dreamed all the Rallye cars would have to experience the worst winter in decades. Snow, below zero temperatures, and the most demanding terrain in Europe took their toll. Two thirds of the 296 cars that started, failed to reach Monaco.

A lot of experts told us that the Falcon V-8's, untired as they were, could not hope to finish the Rallye with the best of weather. But not only did two Falcon Sprints finish, they placed first and second in their class. But there were more surprises (for everyone) in store. Against all competition, regardless of class, the lead Sprint went on to take first in the final six performance legs.

We honestly didn't know the Falcon Sprint would do this well. But it showed us a Falcon with our new 164-hp V-8 is a car that can perform with the best of them. So a lot has happened to Falcon, and yet...

A six-cylinder Falcon has just finished the Mobil Economy Run and finished first in its class. It had to take a lot of punishment, too... 2,500 miles from Los Angeles to Detroit over mountains, deserts, and long stretches of superhighways. But the nickel-nursing ways of the all-time Economy Champ took all comers in its class.

So you see something has happened to the Falcon. It can be what you want it to be... a V-8 that travels in the same circle as Europe's performance kings... or a Six that can travel cross-country on a budget. There's something to put into your compact.

Professor Studies Alaskan Glaciers

A BYU professor, Marion Millett, is currently assisting in the voluminous studies of the new science, glaciology. Mr. Millett, a U professor of geography, began his glacial studies in 1957 when he was sent on an Alaskan expedition in connection with the International Geophysical Year July 1, 1957, to Dec. 31, 1959.

In this first study, beginning 1957, the Alaskan glaciers were mapped, measured and photographed from fixed points. A glacier is a large body of compacted, crystallized snow that moves, Mr. Millett explained. Accurate maps are made of the glaciers and their rate of flow was determined. Some glaciers have no apparent motion, while others moved between 10 feet per year and 100 feet per year. Then a few spots of glaciers were found to remain motionless for years before suddenly moving.

ONE SUCH spasmodic glacier as observed in Mt. McKinley National Park. It suddenly moved several miles in five months. The peak of Mt. McKinley, the highest in the continental United States, is 29,250 feet, and the national park, the largest in the United States, is 3,555 the size of Utah.

Future measurements will be made of the glaciers to determine, in comparison with past measurements, what activity the glacier has been engaged in. Mr. Millett has found that alterations in glaciers reflect past climatic changes.

THE GLACIER grows during cooling trends and it shrinks during warming trends. Mr. Millett so feels that he may find there a direct relationship between the permanent snow line of the glacier and glacial activity.

Mr. Millett is now studying the temperate glaciers of Alaska. The temperate glacier is found in young, Oregon, California, Montana, and also other countries.

RESEARCH has shown that the temperate glacier has internal temperatures that are everywhere above the pressure melting point of ice. At best, it is a semi-permanent body of refrozen ground water. Glaciers are only formed Professor Marion Millett looks over an Alaskan valley during his 1957 expedition to Alaska to study the glaciers there.

As a temperate glacier melts, streams of greyish, milky colored water flow out. This color is created from the fine rock flour produced by the pressure of the glacier movement. The pressure of a glacier causes it to act as a plastic, and it flows by sheer and extrusion force.

Another type of glacier, called a polar glacier, is found only in Antarctica, Greenland, and in the high Canadian Archipelagoes. The temperature of the polar glacier is far below its pressure melting point.

Mr. Millett said that the ice at the back of Timpanogos is not a glacier, for it is made of re-frozen water and it does not move. At best, it is a semi-permanent body of refrozen ground water. Glaciers are only formed where more snow falls than melts.

Since glaciology is a very young science, the glaciologists are still gathering original data and defining their terms. A great deal of research is now needed in this field.

3600 Riders to Observe Ins and Outs of Biking

There will be some 3600 BYU students riding bicycles this spring. To help celebrate the 7th annual observance of American Bike Month this May, and as a game man's guide to cycling, the Bicycle Institute of America and the Universe Feature Dept. here with present the INS and OUTS of biking . . . a free-wheeling guide to two-wheeling in 1963.

Cycling at BYU is more than it used to be. Capt. Sven Nilsson of BYU Security attributes this to two things. The campus is receiving an increased number of missionaries returned from foreign missions. In Europe, the missionaries got the biking habit and brought it back to BYU with them.

With the increased BYU enrollment, more students bring cars to campus, and campus parking facilities become increasingly cramped. Many wise students have decided driving a car is out, and finding parking space for bikes is much more in.

Being fat is out. Cycling yourself lean is in.

Fifty-mile hikes are out. Five miles a day by bike, two or three times a week is in. Six-day bike races are out . . . but may come back in.

College bike racing was out for 40 years. Now it's in.

The bicycle built for two is so far out it's back in again, especially on campus.

Accidents are out. Looking where you're going is in. So are hand signals, riding single file, and giving the pedestrian the right of way. Riding double, hitch ing rides behind trucks, stunt riding in the street, and riding without a light and horn are out. Faulty or unadjusted brakes, saddles, chains, sprockets and steering mechanisms are out. Getting the bike inspected by a competent service man is in.

"I'm too old to ride a bike?" is definitely out.

Senior citizens biking to stay healthy are in. Calling them senior citizens probably makes us out with them.

Jumping bikes off curbs is out. Your tire may be blown out.

Going to the beach, ball park, fishing hole, picnic grove or anywhere else by bike is in.

Celebrating American Bike Month, then having a safe, healthy and fun-filled summer on a bike are in forever.

Kitten Nine Meet Utah In Twin-Bill

The Kittens return to the road this weekend for two games against the University of Utah Papooses.

GAME TIME will be 1 p.m. Saturday at Ute Stadium. These two games are rescheduled games, the original dates being rained out earlier in the season.

The Kittens are still riding high with an unblemished record in intercollegiate and high school competition. In all probability Val Snow will start one of the games against the Little Redskins, with the other starter remaining in question.

DUCK NEMELKA will remain out of action this weekend due to an operation for appendicitis which he underwent several weeks ago. Another doubtful starter is catcher Del Nebeker who hurt his knee in a practice session.

Notwithstanding these losses the Cougar Cubs are confident they have enough talent to beat the U of U. Freshman Coach Frank Herbert feels his charges are going up with a good attitude and believes they will have a successful weekend.

THE KITTENS next home game will be May 17 with two more games scheduled against the University of Utah.

BYU Soccer 'B' Squad Tackles Utah

The BYU "B" soccer squad will tackle the University of Utah Explorers in a league soccer match on BYU's home field in Provo at 3:00 p.m.

THE "A" SQUAD, currently running in second place behind the Incas of Salt Lake are idle this week but will resume hostilities next week. The "A" team have compiled a 7-4 record in the Utah Soccer League. They have three contests left to play this season.

Last week the "B" team drew a bye and the "A" squad edged Salt Lake's Germania squad 2-1 on Germania's home field. Helge Reistad and Dan Madsen were the heroes for BYU in that game with Reistad tying the game after Germania had opened the scoring. Then team captain Dan Madsen put the game on ice with the winning tally.

Bryce Pilling rides after his calf in rodeo action. He will be seeing action at the Provo Rodeo Arena Friday and Saturday in BYU's annual rodeo beginning at 8 p.m. Thirteen colleges will be participating in the show.

Cougar Cowboys Ride In BYU Rodeo Friday

by Doug Christensen
Assistant Sports Editor

With two spring rodeos under their belts the BYU cowboys and cowgirls are saddled and ready for the Cougar show Friday and Saturday at the Provo Rodeo Arena beginning at 8 p.m.

THE RODEO team has competed in stampedes at Montana State where they finished second and the University of Montana at Missoula where only a first place was announced.

At the BYU show 13 colleges and universities will participate from the Rocky Mountain Region. Six BYU cowboys will participate with John Hamilton the regions leading ribbon roper heading the team. Hamilton will also compete in calf roping and bull dogging.

Dennis Hamilton will compete in the same roping events and the bull riding and bareback riding. Larry Caldwell will lead the Cougars in bull dogging and will also compete in the roping field.

OTHER BYU cowboys in the rodeo are Bryce Pilling and Harold White. Pilling is among the numerous calf ropers and will try his hand at bull dogging, while White will participate in saddle bronc and bareback riding events.

Event Weaver will hold the BYU reins in bull riding, bareback riding and bull dogging.

COUGAR cowgirls will be Sharyl Hatcher and Vernice Knottner who will ride in the barrel race and goat tying events.

BYU students are admitted with their activity cards while adult tickets will sell for $1.25 with students prices set for 75 cents.

Mud Bowl Grid Contest Set For Helaman Field

Ed Tolman
Sports Editor

A field between Helaman and the Helaman playing will be the site of the first "Mud Bowl" Saturday, 11.

ETEAMS throwing mud at each other in this inaugural game will be members of the man class and members of sophomore class.

Members of the Cougar grid will be playing or coaching the game, including Phil Baphomire tailback who will elude the fortunes of the 10 year men, and Dennis ster, freshman tackle who coach the frog pinkishers. The game will be played under football rules so as to as much danger as possible the slushy field. This will be the number of men to six of the eleven on regular on squads. But that's still a men to try and find with in your eye.

Competition is a handsome trophy (cost $70.00) trophy was put up by the Cougar Club, sponsors of the affair, and will be at stake each year. It is currently on display in the library, third floor.

THE MISS Rejects, winners of the tag football championship, indicative of intramural grid supremacy, have hurled a challenge at the winners of the "Mud Bowl" game. If the winners accept this could turn into a challenge competition.

Hostilities will get underway, come what mud or may, at 1:00 p.m.

THERE are several other festivities which are being planned in conjunction with the grid game. During halftime two groups will stage a tug-of-war, which should resemble a mud of men being pulled out of quicksand.

Also during the afternoon the "Bowl" committee will choose a "mud queen." Everyone is eligible but the winner must be adept making mudpies and run a fast hundred-yard dash, also in the mud.

Topping the day's activities will be a storm held at Cannon Center. Everyone is invited, especially as there is no charge for this dance.

Southpaw Harold Turkey drives a serve across the net in action against Utah State who BYU will meet again Saturday.

Arizona, BYU Lead WAC Baseball Wars

The Western Athletic Conference statistics released recently showed the southern division leaders in baseball to be the University of Arizona Wildcats while BYU headed the northern division.

THE COUGARS have compiled a record of 3-0 with wins over Utah and Wyoming. The University of Utah holds down second place with a 2-1 record while Wyoming is in the cellar with a 0-4 record.

The Wildcats have compiled a 5-1 mark this season in conference play and an overall season record of 20-11, which is good enough to be nationally ranked as a baseball power.

ARIZONA STATE hold second place in the southern circuit with a record of 3-3 and New Mexico is in the basement with a mark of 1-5.

The BYU squad in rolling to its 3-0 record has four regulars batting over .400 while two others are hitting in the .300's.

THE LEADING Cougar slugger is catcher Pat Estes with an average of .462 with Bill Wright next in line with a .429 average. Second sacker Jim Armstrong is hitting at .417 and Bruce Samples is knocking the ball at a even .400 clip.

Joe Becroft is the Cougar's top pitcher with a 2-0 record and an ERA of 1.50. Chuck Midland has the other Cougar win.

Cougars Meet Bengals, Aggies In Tennis Action

by Larry Harris
University Sports Writer

The BYU tennis team will include the courts of Idaho State and Utah State in tennis action over the week-end.

COACH FRED Dixon and his aces will leave Friday morning for a seven match encounter with Idaho State. The Bengals played earlier in the season at BYU and suffered a 6-1 loss.

Returning home from Idaho, the team will stop in Logan Saturday for a nine game match with the Aggies. Utah State also fell to the BYU netters by a count of 9-1 in an early season match at Provo.

GEORGE CONWAY, who recently won the open "ice-breaker" tournament at Salt Lake by defeating Joe Cowley 6-2, 6-3, should bring home victories from both matches. His record this season is 8 wins-2 losses.

Other members who will make the trip include Harold Turkey, the only senior on the team, Bill Fort, Don Lowe, Glen Meier, Ken Johnson, Duane Ballard and Bill Bidley.

"THIS IS ONE of the better tennis teams at BYU in a number of years," said Coach Dixon. Their record to date is 7-3, with two losses to Arizona University and one to Utah.

We expect both Idaho and Utah State to give us better games with their home court advantage," he said. The contests should, however, sharpen the Cougars for their match with Utah the following week.

THE CONFERENCE championship will be determined at Tempe, Arizona on May 24 and 25. "Arizona University will probably be favored," said Coach Dixon, "but Utah and BYU have an outside chance."

BYU Cindermen to Try Romney Stadium Marks

On Saturday the Belgham of University cindermen will on the Utah State thirdgrade the Aggie oval.

the best shaving job, however, I fail to sophomore quarter Bob Tobler. The smoothing hand from Richfield has a .465 best effort this season (against the Air Force Academy) and was clocked in a .458 in his run of the anchor leg of the mile relay.

IN ANY EVENT, the Cougars have reason to expect one of their better meets in Logan Saturday.

Coach Clarence Robison's crew has been a little slow to reach the peak form which they are now arriving at and can be expected to continue improving as the second half of the season progresses.

THUS FAR in the season the Cats have had one success against three losses against conference teams, but can be expected to hold their own for the rest of the year.

In addition to the dual meet competition, the Farmers have scheduled an added attraction to add to the thrills of the afternoon. Three outstanding field event specialists are scheduled for appearance Saturday afternoon. They are 16-foot pole vaulters Dexter Eklund of Southern Methodist and Don Meyers of Colorado, and javelin tosser Jan Sikorsky of the University of Southern California.
